

eCornell's eLearning programs will change your business - for the better. eCornell courses were developed with extensive research and testing among corporate constituencies. The validation of this research is verified by the product's performance in the field. The result? Employees who are empowered, motivated, more skillful and efficient, and increasingly invested in their company's future.

You are assured that your employees will complete their training

90% of eCornell students complete the course, twice the eLearning industry norm

They'll complete their training because they find value in the course experience

91% rate their overall impression of eCornell courses as good to excellent

The challenge will keep them engaged

83% find the challenge of the coursework to be just right for them

The training will help your employees - and you - do a better job

95% found the material applicable to their jobs, and 93% say it will directly impact their job performance

The coursework fits easily into regularly scheduled office time

96% of eCornell students say their agendas readily accommodate the courses, and 95% say they did not have to take time away from the office

Your employees are ready to give eCornell their seal of approval

95% would recommend taking an eCornell course to their colleagues